INTRODUCTION TO THE COURSE

With the rapid development taking place in the field of information technology, it is always sensible to learn some core programming languages and their applications, which is going to help you advance your career. So, in this summer training program, IEM Labs brings you the C Programming Training Program which will provide you with a strong fundamental base of C and its applications.

IEMLabs is an ISO 27001 and ISO 9001 certified training institute. It also has memberships of NASSCOM and EC Council. Ever since our journey started in 2016, we have been training students on various fields of computer science. Our top-ranking teachers and the interactive mode of teaching have been our USP for a number of years. Thus, IEMLabs brings this Summer/Winter training program for the advantage of those interested candidates who always desire to acquire additional knowledge outside their course curriculum.
